

© Matthieu Paley

Climate change adaptation in mountain areas

What role is there for parliamentarians?

Mountain areas are disproportionately affected by climate change impacts, but do not receive adequate attention in international processes. During this webinar, international mountain experts and parliamentarians will present solutions and discuss potential ways forward to close these gaps.

Webinar on International Mountain Day

11 December 2020, 14:00-15:15 CET

Co-hosted by the Inter-Parliamentary Union and the Adaptation at Altitude programme of the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation

The event will be hosted in English with interpretation offered in French, Spanish, and Russian

Speakers

Manfred Kaufmann, Programme Manager, Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation SDC

Carolina Adler, Executive Director of the Mountain Research Initiative

Grammenos Mastrojeni, Deputy Secretary General of the Union for the Mediterranean

Nicolas Walder, MP, National Council of Switzerland

Sebastián Torrealba Alvarado, Chamber of Deputies, Chile

Moderators

Kareen Jabre, Director, Division of Programmes, Inter-Parliamentary Union

Christian Bréthaut, Assistant Professor, University of Geneva

▶ Register here